

COMING SUNDAY: A VIOLIN PRODIGY DEBUTS WITH THE NEW JERSEY SYMPHONY

Better Living

11.17.07

ASKING ALBEE

EDWARD ALBEE

Albee is best known as the man who penned "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" At this event, he will face a barrage of questions from Broadway actor Bill Irwin. Irwin won a Tony Award in 2006 for playing George in "Woolf."

When: 8 tonight.

Where: Riverspace, 119 Main St., Nyack, N.Y.

How much: $50 (includes dessert reception), $25, students $15. For more information: riverspace.org; 845-384-1880.

EAR CANDY

ALL-STATE ORCHESTRA AND CHORUS CONCERT

1 Center St., Newark.
How much: $9, $11, $13, $21.

Take a moment to hear some of the most talented young voices in all of New Jersey. The 350-member chorus — coupled with a 100-piece orchestra — is a perfect way to spend a pre-

For more information: njpac.org; 800-466-5722.

VOCALIST VISITS

MARC COHN

The "Walking in Memphis" singer comes to Ridgewood for an intimate show. Cohn was shot two years ago while leaving a concert. He was hospitalized but survived and continues to tour the country.

When: 8 tonight.

Where: Blend, 17 Chestnut St., Ridgewood.

How much: $65.

For more information: blendbar.com; 201-251-4343.

5 THINGS TO DO THIS WEEKEND

5K FUND-RAISER

FIFTH ANNUAL RUN FOR GEORGE

The race ends with a festival of Greek food, games and a silent auction. The fund-raiser honors George Rubis, who died of pancreatic cancer. Englewood Cliffs Mayor Joseph Parisi Jr. challenges anyone to beat him. Those who best him get a prize, including $250 for first place. You also can walk the 5K or a one-mile loop.

When: 10:45 a.m. Sunday.

Where: Upper School, 143 Charlotte Place, Englewood Cliffs.

How much: $10, $40 mayor's challenge.

For more information: runforgeorge.com.

EDGY ART

"OTHERS": AN ART SHOW

Welcome to the antithesis of the work you can find hanging on the walls of the Met. The show's press release trumpets an exposition that includes "everything other than traditional art." This means photos,

